

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

Our democracy is going down the toilet when big corporations can own media monopolies. News stations pander to the ratings and have cut their staffs down to the bare bones. There is no in-depth coverage of issues anymore, just sound bytes and pundits.

Our airwaves are resembling Soviet Russia spewing out the party line propaganda. Thank God for Public Radio and TV.

The FCC must take its responsibilities seriously! Get rid of these freeloading exploiters and lets get some responsible journalism back in the U.S.
